

ACT-America flight summary. 11 July, 2016.

Two instrument test flights were conducted today. The C130 took off around noon and conducted a test flight off the coast of New Jersey, flying at multiple altitudes to test both remote and in situ sensors. The B200 took off mid-afternoon, and conducted a test of its in situ instrument suite in the area of Ahoskie, North Carolina.