Validation:

Quantifying Inflow and Outflow:

Ozone columns calculated for each flight were averaged per flight, and then binned by latitude and longitude to create these line plots.

The flight region was subdivided to see how the ozone distribution evolved as the air mass traveled the North American continent.